

CONGRESO PANAMERICANO DE INGENIERIA NAVAL

"Hacia un futuro marítimo sostenible: Ingeniería, integración e innovación"

Belém, PA, June 9, 2026.

Dear fellow IPIN member,

It is with great pleasure that the Pan-American Institute of Naval Engineering (IPIN AMERICAS) invites you to the XXX COPINAVAL 2027, Pan-American Congress of Naval Engineering, Maritime Transportation, and Port Engineering, to be held from September 20 to 24, 2027, in Belém, Pará, Brazil.

The event will be hosted at the Hotel Vila Galé Collection Amazônia, in Belém, a venue that matches the grandeur of the congress and the richness of the Amazon.

After two decades, the congress returns to Brazil with the theme "Towards a sustainable maritime future: engineering, integration, and innovation", bringing together representatives from thirteen countries across the Americas in a privileged space for knowledge exchange, cooperation, and institutional strengthening.

As an IPIN member, your presence is vital to strengthening and unifying our institute at this continental event. We count on your participation to elevate COPINAVAL 2027—whether as an attendee, speaker, author, or simply as a representative of our Pan-American naval engineering community.

More information regarding registration, paper submission, and the full schedule will be announced soon. Please visit www.copinaval.com to stay updated.

We count on you. See you in Belém!

Sincerely,

Dr. Pedro Igor Dias Lameira, Naval Engineer
Presidente de IPIN AMERICAS
General Coordinator of XXX COPINAVAL 2027
